Incident Reporting & Developing Effective Safety Culture

8th - 9th July 2026 - Johannesburg, South Africa

Course Overview

The Development of a successful Incident Reporting (IR) System is the process of identifying and analyzing hazards and risks to come up with effective mitigation and control measures for your organization. This intends to limit incidents' disruption to your operations, minimize negative impact, prevent recurrence and protect your reputation. Incident Reporting helps your teams and key stakeholders investigate and resolve issues before they evolve into bigger problems, accidents or major emergencies.

Key Learning Outcomes

By the end of the training, participants will be able to:

- Build a shared understanding of what constitutes an incident, near miss, and hazard.
- Reduce any fear of blame teaching a safety culture approach where reporting is encouraged, not punished.
- Improve reporting accuracy and consistency, ensuring essential details are captured.
- Strengthen employees' confidence to report issues promptly and correctly.
- Clarify procedures & expectations, so employees know how, when, and why to report.
- Promote proactive risk identification, helping staff recognize early warning signs.
- Improve communication across departments, preventing information bottlenecks.
- Encourage continuous improvement, using lessons learned from reported incidents.
- Support regulatory & organizational compliance, reducing legal and operational risks.
- Reinforce leadership commitment, demonstrating that IR is an organizational priority.
- Understand the differences between an Incident, Near Miss and Accident

Why You Should Attend?

Incident reporting training is essential because it ensures that every employee understands how to recognize, document, and communicate safety-related events accurately and promptly. Proper training helps prevent future incidents by identifying hazards early, supports a safer workplace for everyone, and protects the organization from legal, financial, and operational risks.

- Understand what qualifies as an incident, near-miss, or hazard.
- Learn how to report incidents accurately and efficiently.
- Help prevent future accidents by identifying risks early.
- Ensure compliance with organizational policies and legal requirements.
- Using the Bradle Curve, protecting you & coworkers, promoting a safer environment.
- Gain confidence in using reporting systems, forms, and tools.
- Improve response times and reduce the severity of potential incidents.
- Contribute to a culture of transparency and continuous improvement.
- Support investigations with complete and accurate information.
- Reduce organizational risks, including operational disruptions and liability.
